US–Iran Conflict Briefing

2026-11-11 · Morning edition · Issued 07:00 CST

Iran Rules Out Letting Enriched Nuclear Material Leave the Country; Rezaei Says No Negotiations Are Taking Place

- Iranian security chief Mohsen Rezaei said in televised remarks to Lebanon's Al Mayadeen TV that Iran will not allow even a single particle of enriched nuclear material to leave the country, Reuters reported on Wednesday, November 11. — Reuters
- Rezaei said in the same remarks that any new US attacks on Iran will be met with targeting US bases far away, Reuters reported on Wednesday, November 11. — Reuters
- Rezaei has said there are currently no negotiations taking place between Tehran and Washington, Reuters reported on Wednesday, November 11. — Reuters

Iran Warns of Nationwide Gas Cuts This Winter as War Damage Deepens the Shortfall

- Iranian government spokesperson Fatemeh Mohajerani warned in a Tehran news conference on Tuesday that if consumption is high, gas cuts could occur all over the country including in Tehran, Reuters reported on Wednesday, November 11. — Reuters
- Mohajerani forecast a shortfall of 430 million cubic meters in Iran's gas supply this year, compared to about 300 million cubic meters in previous years, Reuters reported on Wednesday, November 11. — Reuters
- National Iranian Gas Company managing director Saeed Tavakoli said four gas processing plants were damaged in the first phase of the conflict, initially cutting capacity by 230 million cubic meters, of which about 100 million has been restored, Reuters reported on November 11. — Reuters
- The National Iranian Gas Company warned last week that 11 of Iran's 31 provinces could face gas supply difficulties this winter, with Mazandaran, Golestan and North Khorasan most vulnerable, Reuters reported on November 11. — Reuters
- Parliament Speaker Mohammad Baqer Qalibaf on Sunday called on Iranians to cut gas use by 10 percent ahead of winter, and First Vice President Mohammad Reza Aref said Monday gas prices could rise if consumption is excessive, Reuters reported on November 11. — Reuters

Another Tanker Struck Near Oman as Hormuz Shipping Attacks Reach a Wartime High

- Another tanker was struck northeast of Oman's Lima on Tuesday, November 10, the UK Maritime Trade Operations agency said, Reuters reported on November 11. — Reuters
- Ten shipping attacks have been recorded so far in November and 37 in October, the highest monthly total of the war, Reuters reported on November 11. — Reuters

Iran Designates Argentina's Navy and Air Force as Terrorist Organizations in Reciprocal Move

- Iran designated Argentina's navy and air force as terrorist organizations on Wednesday, November 11, in reciprocity for Argentina's April designation of the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps, Iran's Foreign Ministry said, Reuters reported. — Reuters

---

Sources: Reuters · Reuters · Reuters · Reuters

Compiled from X posts and traditional news outlets. Verify before acting on any single report.